

HOME PAGEPOLICIESABOUT USOLD ARCHIVE

NOVEMBER 17, 2020

CONTACT USG. EDWARD GRIFFIN'S
Need To KnowFREEDOMMONEYPOLITICSGLOBALISMTECHNOCRACYKAKISTOCRACYHEALTHOTHERBREAKING ➤

[November 17, 2020] Two D

Search here...

HOME ➤ FREEDOM ➤ Pope Francis Criticizes
Capitalism, Recommends Communist Policy
Against Private Property

Pope Francis Criticizes Capitalism, Recommends Communist Policy Against Private Property

TRENDING

CDC Study Admits
COVID "Virus" Infects
Only Poisoned
Monkey Cells, Not Humans!

Mandatory COVID
Camps Begin in New Zealand, Similar Plans for Canada and the US

James Corbett's

🕒 October 6, 2020 👤 AP 💬 8

Pope Francis, Wiki

Pope Francis says the coronavirus pandemic has proven that the “magic theories” of market capitalism have failed and that the world needs a new type of politics that promotes solidarity and working for the common good that must come from sharing the Earth’s

Master Guide to the Great ‘Reset’ That is Underway

German Neurologist Says Masks Cause Oxygen Deprivation and Permanent Brain Damage, Especially in Children

Left-Wing Radicals Post Online Guide to ‘Disrupting’ the Country If Democrats Lose Election

GEG COMMENTARY – MOST RECENT

Northern Italy: Dozens Wounded in Clash with Police Over Covid-19 Lockdowns

🕒 October 30, 2020 💬

New Hampshire: Trump Supporters

resources. Pope Francis rejected the concept of an absolute right to property for individuals, which is a defining feature of communism. Francis falsely blamed the loss of millions of jobs on the virus, but the economy was destroyed by governments forcing lockdowns and shutting down businesses.

Pope Francis says the coronavirus pandemic has proven that the “magic theories” of market capitalism have failed and that the world needs a new type of politics that promotes dialogue and solidarity and rejects war at all costs.

Francis on Sunday laid out his vision for a post-COVID world by uniting the core elements of his social teachings into a new encyclical aimed at inspiring a revived sense of the human family.

Receive Letters Threatening to Burn Down Their Homes

🕒 October 21, 2020 💬 0

Left-Wing Radicals Post Online Guide to ‘Disrupting’ the Country If Democrats Lose Election

🕒 October 18, 2020 💬 7

Roger Stone to Alex Jones: To Avoid Losing the Election, Trump Must Declare Martial Law

🕒 September 13, 2020 💬 7

Black Lives Matter & Antifa Terrorize Small Minnesota Town

🕒 August 17, 2020 💬 2

“Fratelli Tutti” (Brothers All) was released on the feast day of his namesake, the peace-loving St. Francis of Assisi.

The document draws its inspiration from the teachings of St. Francis and the pope’s previous preaching on the injustices of the global economy and its destruction of the planet and pairs them with his call for greater human solidarity to confront the “dark clouds over a closed world.”

In the encyclical, Francis rejected even the Catholic Church’s own doctrine justifying war as a means of legitimate defense, saying it had been too broadly applied over the centuries and was no longer viable.

“It is very difficult nowadays to invoke the rational criteria elaborated in earlier centuries to speak of the possibility of a ‘just war,’” Francis wrote in the most

SEE ALL STORIES POSTED ON ...

< November 2020 >
MO N	TUE	WE D	TH U	FRI	SAT	SUN
						1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30

SIGN UP FOR NEED-TO- KNOW

from G.
Edward Griffin

Enter Your Full Name

Enter Your Best Email

YES, PLEASE

We never share your email.

controversial new element of the encyclical.

Francis had started writing the encyclical, the third of his pontificate, before the coronavirus struck and its bleak diagnosis of a human family falling apart goes far beyond the problems posed by the outbreak. He said the pandemic, however, had confirmed his belief that current political and economic institutions must be reformed to address the legitimate needs of the people most harmed by the coronavirus.

“Aside from the differing ways that various countries responded to the crisis, their inability to work together became quite evident,” Francis wrote.

“Anyone who thinks that the only lesson to be learned was the need to improve what we were already doing, or to refine existing systems and regulations, is denying reality.”

He cited the grave loss of millions of jobs as a result of the virus as evidence of the need for politicians to listen to popular movements, unions and marginalized groups and to craft more just social and economic policies.

“The fragility of world systems in the face of the pandemic has demonstrated that not everything can be resolved by market freedom,” he wrote. “It is imperative to have a proactive economic policy directed at ‘promoting an economy that favours productive diversity and business creativity’ and makes it possible for jobs to be created, and not cut.”

He denounced populist politics that seek to demonize and isolate, and called for a “culture of encounter” that promotes dialogue, solidarity and a sincere effort at working for the common good.

As an outgrowth of that, Francis rejected the concept of an absolute right to property for individuals, stressing instead the “social purpose” and the common good that must come from sharing the Earth’s resources. He repeated his criticism of the “perverse” global economic system, which he said consistently keeps the poor on the margins while enriching the few — an argument he made most fully in his 2015 landmark environmental encyclical “Laudato Sii” (Praised Be).

Read full article here...

COMMUNISM

POPE

PRIVATE PROPERTY

8

Skip to comments.

Pope Francis goes full communist: The Pope uses the Wuhan virus epidemic to promote socialism, open borders, and appeasement.

American Thinker ^ | 10/05/2020 | Andrea Widburg

Posted on 10/5/2020, 9:08:29 AM by SeekAndFind

In an encyclical published on Sunday, Pope Francis announced that he'd had an epiphany thanks to the Wuhan virus: It's time to ditch capitalism. But that's not all. He believes, too, that in a time of a serious infectious disease, we should focus even harder on open borders. And he blithely upended almost two millennia of Church doctrine by doing away with St. Augustine's "just war" theory.

These actions reflect Francis's Catholic upbringing within the communist "liberation theology" of the Latin American church. They may also show the effects of his ongoing alliance with Chinese communists and with Muslims.

Fox Business sums up the gist of Francis's communist dreams (emphasis mine):

"Aside from the differing ways that various countries responded to the crisis, their inability to work together became quite evident," Francis wrote. "Anyone who thinks that the only lesson to be learned was the need to improve what we were already doing, or refine existing systems and regulations, is denying reality."

He cited the grave loss of millions of jobs as a result of the virus as evidence of the need for politicians to listen to popular movements, unions and marginalized groups and to craft more just social and economic policies.

"The fragility of world systems in the face of the pandemic has demonstrated that not everything can be resolved by market freedom," he wrote. "It is imperative to have a proactive economic policy directed at 'promoting an economy that favours productive diversity and business creativity’ and makes it possible for jobs to be created, and not cut.””

As an outgrowth of that, Francis rejected the concept of absolute right to property for individuals, stressing instead the “social purpose” and common good that must come from sharing the Earth’s

(Excerpt) Read more at americanthinker.com ...

TOPICS: Culture/Society; News/Current Events; Philosophy

KEYWORDS: catholic; communist; epidemic; marxist; popefrancis; socialism; vatican

Navigation: use the links below to view more comments.

first 1-20, 21-40, 41-56 next last

1 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:08:29 AM by SeekAndFind
[Post Reply | Private Reply | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

“Never let a crisis go to waste.”

2 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:11:09 AM by Ouchthatonehurt
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

If the Pope thinks Socialism/Communism is such a great idea, wait till he finds out he can’t speak about religion, much less promote it.

3 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:11:16 AM by unixfox (Abolish Slavery, Repeal the 16th Amendment)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

Throughout history there have been some really wicked popes, including those who sold their office for temporal pleasures. Popes are still men. Just sayin'.

4 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:11:24 AM by Savage Rider
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

THE COMMUNIST POPE!™

5 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:12:09 AM by Road Warrior '04 (BOYCOTT The NFL, MLB, NBA & NASCAR! Molon Labe! Oathkeeper!)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

As an unwashed philistine with no dog in the fight; I'd say, So much for papal infallibility.

6 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:12:14 AM by Tucker39 ("It is impossible so to rightly govern a nation without God and the Bible." George Washington)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

...interesting ... I never liked that guy — and now we have the plan... It's about perversion and to steer people away from the truth of the Church.

7 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:12:18 AM by Patriot_MP (Si vis pacem, para bellum)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: unixfox

I don't think that would bother him at all.

Go back and read through any random public statement he has issued during his papacy. In most cases you will read through pages of text without finding a single mention of the words “Jesus Christ” or even “God.”

He gives all the evidence that he’s a deist at best, and more likely an atheist.

8 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:16:55 AM by Alberta's Child ("There's somebody new and he sure ain't no rodeo man.")

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 3 | View Replies]

To: unixfox

wait till he finds out he can't speak about religion, much less promote it.”

He would unaffected by such restrictions

9 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:17:02 AM by gibsonguy

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 3 | View Replies]

To: unixfox

He doesn't do that now.

10 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:17:58 AM by xp38

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 3 | View Replies]

To: Patriot_MP

In my mind if you believe strongly in God the father, his Son Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit and you read the Bible and or religious literature....you don't need the Pope or the church. You can be your “own” church. That's just me and I am Catholic.

11 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:20:09 AM by V V Camp Enari 67-68 (Viet Vet)

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 7 | View Replies]

To: Savage Rider

And how about those who became pope after another living pope was pushed aside? I submit the record is worse in such a circumstance.

12 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:20:42 AM by 9YearLurker
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 4 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

bert's epiphany..... the Pope is inviting assassination

13 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:22:07 AM by bert ((KE. NP. N.C. +12) t Zip-a-dee-doo-dah, zip-a-dee-ay My, oh, my, what a wonderful day)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

So says Pope Che from his walled-in fiefdom.

14 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:22:56 AM by Army Air Corps (Four Fried Chickens and a Coke)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

I miss John Paul.

15 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:28:45 AM by Eric in the Ozarks (Baseball players, gangsters and musicians are remembered. But journalists are forgotten.)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

For the past century, Communism is touted as the solution to every single major problem that we don't actually have.

16 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:29:07 AM by rightwingcrazy (;-.)

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: Tucker39

As an unwashed philistine with no dog in the fight; I'd say, So much for papal infallibility

Papal infallibility only comes into play when 1) a pope is speaking about faith and morals, and 2) he comes out and says he's speaking infallibly. That's happened four times in two thousand years: 1854, 1950, 1968, and 1994. Francis didn't (and couldn't) issue this infallibly.

17 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:31:48 AM by BlessedBeGod (To restore all things in Christ~Appeasing evil is cowardice~Francis is temporary. Hell is forever.)

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 6 | View Replies]

To: Tucker39

Papal infallibility only applies when the Pope speaks on matters of faith or morals. This is neither.

18 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:32:47 AM by georgia peach (georgia peach)

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 6 | View Replies]

To: SeekAndFind

He is changing the Church from being a Christian faith into being his own personal Left-wing political party.

19 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:33:55 AM by Buckeye McFrog (Patrick Henry would have been an anti-vaxxer.)

[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 1 | View Replies]

To: Ouchthatonehurt

Frank likes tyranny.

20 posted on 10/5/2020, 9:35:16 AM by gasport (Vote Democrat . . . Win stupid stuff)
[Post Reply | Private Reply | To 2 | View Replies]

Navigation: use the links below to view more comments.

first 1-20, 21-40, 41-56 next last

Disclaimer: Opinions posted on Free Republic are those of the individual posters and do not necessarily represent the opinion of Free Republic or its management. All materials posted herein are protected by copyright law and the exemption for fair use of copyrighted works.

Free Republic
Browse · Search

News/Activism
Topics · Post Article

FreeRepublic, LLC, PO BOX 9771, FRESNO, CA 93794

FreeRepublic.com is powered by software copyright 2000-2008 John Robinson

Pope Francis says the coronavirus pandemic has proven that the “magic theories” of market capitalism have failed and that the world needs a new type of politics that promotes dialogue, solidarity and rejects war at all costs.

Francis on Sunday laid out his vision for a post-COVID world by uniting the core elements of his social teachings into a new encyclical aimed at inspiring a revived sense of the human family. “Fratelli Tutti” (Brothers All) was released on the feast day of his namesake, the peace-loving St. Francis of Assisi.

The document draws its inspiration from the teachings of St. Francis and the pope’s previous preaching about the injustices of the global economy and its destruction of the planet and pairs them with his call for a new type of politics that promotes dialogue, solidarity and rejects war at all costs.

greater human solidarity to confront the “dark clouds over a closed world.”

In the encyclical, Francis rejected even the Catholic Church’s own doctrine justifying war as means of legitimate defense, saying it had been too broadly applied over the centuries and is no longer viable.

“It is very difficult nowadays to invoke the rational criteria elaborated in earlier centuries to speak of the possibility of a ‘just war,’” Francis wrote in the most controversial new element of the encyclical.

Francis had started writing the encyclical, the third of his pontificate, before the coronavirus struck and its diagnosis of a human family falling apart goes far beyond the problems posed by the outbreak. He said the pandemic, however, had confirmed his belief that current political and economic institutions must be reformed to address the legitimate needs of the people most harmed by the coronavirus.

“Aside from the differing ways that various countries responded to the crisis, their inability to work together became quite evident,” Francis wrote. “Anyone who thinks that the only lesson to be learned was the need to improve what we were already doing, or to refine existing systems and regulations, is denying reality.”

He cited the grave loss of millions of jobs as a result of the virus as evidence of the need for politicians to listen to popular movements, unions and marginalized groups and to craft more just social and economic policies.

“The fragility of world systems in the face of the pandemic has demonstrated that not everything can be resolved by market freedom,” he wrote. “It is imperative to have a proactive economic policy directed at ‘promoting an economy that favours productive diversity and business creativity’ and makes it possible for jobs to be created, and not cut.”

He denounced populist politics that seek to demonize and isolate, and called for a “culture of encounter” that promotes dialogue, solidarity and a sincere effort at working for the common good.

As an outgrowth of that, Francis rejected the concept of an absolute right to property for individuals, stressing instead the “social purpose” and common good that must come from sharing the Earth’s resources. He repeated his criticism of the “perverse” global economic system, which said consistently keeps the poor on the margins while enriching the few — an argument he made most fully in his 2015 landmark environmental encyclical “Laudato Si” (Praised Be).

LOGIN

Novenas

Charity Reports

Articles

Videos

Podcasts

Newsletter

Contact

Donate

Store

2019-06-17 BY MICHAEL HICHBORN

28 COMMENTS

Pope Francis Promotes Goals Created by Communists

Since the very beginning of his pontificate, Pope Francis has been working to promote international adoption and implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) of the United Nations. Just a little over a year after his election was cited in a document of the United Nations Population Fund titled, "Religion and Development Post 2015." Beginning on page 20 of this document is a section on the nature and hopes of the SDGs. But on page 21, it indicates that Pope Francis, in his leadership of the United Nations, committing the entire Catholic Church to

"Appreciation of these issues is growing within the UN, as evidenced from the May 2014 meeting between the UN leadership and representatives of the Vatican and His Holiness the Pope on the SDG agenda. This meeting was followed by an audience between the UN Secretary-General and His Holiness, who committed the Catholic Church to support the SDG efforts."

So, according to the Secretary General of the United Nations, Pope Francis, just a few months after announcing his intent to write an encyclical on "human ecology," committed the Catholic Church to support the SDG efforts." The very next year, Pope Francis published Laudato Si, which makes 23 direct references to sustainable development. In September of 2015, Pope Francis addressed the General Assembly of the United Nations, appealing for universal adoption of the SDGs. He said:

The dramatic reality of this whole situation of exclusion and inequality, and its effects, has led me, in union with the entire Christian people and mankind, to take stock of my grave responsibility in this regard and to speak out, together with those who are seeking urgently-needed and effective solutions. The adoption of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development at the World Summit for the Future today, is an important sign of hope. I am similarly confident that the Paris Conference on Climatic Change will secure fundamental and effective agreements.

In November of 2015, the Pontifical Academy of Sciences held a workshop titled "Education and Sustainable Development: A Challenge for Education," which predictably drew attention on how to indoctrinate children on the Sustainable Development Goals. In 2016, Pope Francis addressed the Pontifical Academy of Social Sciences on human trafficking. In his address, the Holy Father expressed his gratitude for the adoption of the SDGs saying, "I am grateful for the fact that the representatives of 193 member states unanimously approved the new Sustainable Development Goals" of this year, Pope Francis addressed the participants at the Vatican's conference titled "RELIGIONS AND THE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS (SDGS): LISTENING TO THE VOICES OF THE EARTH AND OF THE POOR". In his speech, Pope Francis applauded the 2015 SDGs, and even indicated that the SDGs would lead to a "sustainable world order." In his opening remarks, quoting himself from Laudato Si, Pope Francis said: "The 2030 Agenda and the Sustainable Development Goals, approved by 193 nations in September 2015, were a great step forward for global development, marking a vitally 'new and universal solidarity' (Laudato Si', 14)."

Later in his speech, addressing what he called the "myth of unlimited growth and consumption," he indicated that the SDGs were merely providing the foundation for a "sustainable world order" saying:

"While it is certainly necessary to aim for a set of development goals that are sufficient for a fair and sustainable world order."

And just a few days ago, speaking to participants of the International Conference Centesimus Annus Pro Pontifice Foundation, Pope Francis "urged more progress towards the sustainable development goals." This growing focus and fascination with the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals is deeply concerning, especially considering the fact that the goals are so firmly rooted in Communist ideology. So, what are the Sustainable Development Goals? They're a United Nations plan for the creation of a socialist utopia thinly disguised as a poverty reduction program. They are 1 out of Agenda 21, the Millennium Development Goals and a host of other programs developed by the United Nations. In short, the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals are the first step in achieving several of the goals laid out in the Communist Manifesto. In truth, these goals are Communist goals, through and through. Here's a snap-shop of how specific portions of the SDGs line up with identified Communist goals: Sustainable Development Goals

- Goal 1. End poverty in all its forms everywhere
 - Communists have always used the plight of the poor as justification for the implementation of their nefarious schemes
- Goal 2. End hunger, achieve food security and improved nutrition and sustainable agriculture
 - Plank 7 of the Communist Manifesto calls for a top-down approach to food and agriculture
- Goal 3. Ensure healthy lives and promote well-being for all at all ages
 - A 1938 issue of a Communist publication concluded that "Only the final victory of world socialism can the vast stores of available knowledge really be put to work for the full benefit of humanity. 'The art of medicine' is a meaningless phrase except in a socialized society.'
- Goal 4. Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all
 - Plank 10 of the Communist Manifesto is "Free education for all children in public schools."
- Goal 5. Achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls
 - Communism has pushed for working women since the beginning of the Russian Revolution in Russia.

- Goal 8. Promote sustained, inclusive and sustainable economic growth, productive employment and decent work for all
 - Plank 8 of the Communist Manifesto: Equal liability of all to work of industrial armies, especially for agriculture.
- Goal 11. Make cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable
 - Plank 9 of the Communist Manifesto: Combination of agriculture and manufacturing industries; gradual abolition of all the distinction between town and country by a more equitable distribution of the populace over the country.
- Goal 12. Ensure sustainable consumption and production patterns
 - This is an echo of Karl Marx's mandate, "From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs."
- Goal 17. Strengthen the means of implementation and revitalize the global partnership for sustainable development
 - This is pure global governance orchestrated by an entity with no national sovereignty.

This summary is not intended to be exhaustive, but should provide enough alarm even the most lukewarm of patriots and faithful Christians. But the Church, which has issued full and unqualified condemnations of Communism and Socialism, has nothing to do with the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals.

yet, "Catholic" social justice organizations and its leaders have hijacked key Vatican and are using their influence and authority to fast-track programs to get the faithful to fully support and work for the implementation of the SDGs. This is dangerous and must be forcefully resisted by all faithful Catholics. What follows is a general overview of some of the more egregious of the SDGs in their audacious global Communist governance. The first of the Sustainable Development Goals is:

Goal 1. End all poverty in all its forms everywhere.

As noble as this goal seems, it is completely unachievable. Our Blessed Lord clearly, "you will always have the poor among you." (John 12:8) If it were possible to achieve this goal, our Lord would be a liar. But aside from this, "ending poverty" is one of the oldest rallying cries of the international Marxist revolution. In a 1915 issue of Washington Socialist, over two years before the Soviet Revolution of October, an article bearing the headline, "Judge Black's Remedy for Unemployment" said, "How can we end poverty?" In a 1928 issue of the Socialist publication, "The Daily Worker," a notorious communist author and foreign policy analyst Scott Nearing wrote an article asking "Are There Too Many Mouths?" In the article, Nearing outlines this goal with a plan simply titled, "How to End Poverty." In 1934, Socialist author Upham campaigned for the governorship of California on the platform slogan, "End Poverty In California." In 1935, the Worker's Vote Election Program, originally published in the Fighting Worker, gave a chilling depiction of the intended hope for a global communist society that "elimination of poverty." It said:

"The Workers Government will expropriate the expropriators, will socialize the means of production, will be a dictatorship against the exploiters to insure workers democracy, new government workers will carry on production for use instead of for profit, will organize production on a higher level to insure abundance for all, will poverty, unemployment and wars, will establish a workers state, coordinate the Soviet Union, and will lay the basis for a world communist society to give support to the revolutionary movement throughout the rest of the world."

In August of 1945, The Militant, a publication of the Communist League of America, published an article bearing the headline, "THERE IS NO PEACE! Only World Socialism"

Mankind Prom Atomic Destruction in Another Imperialist War!" In expressing establishing a Socialist World Order, the article concludes with a passing statement how Socialism's fight is now "more than a fight to end poverty." In 1960, The story outlining the platform of the Socialist party, expressing its intention to Under the headline, "Socialist Workers Party Election Platform," the article states: "There is not the least doubt that a planned economy in the United States with its skilled labor, our rich resources, tremendous industrial plant and high science, could quickly end poverty on this continent and assure even abundance, opportunity and deeply satisfying achievement."

There are many, many other examples we could provide, but the point is simply that rallying around the poor with the stated intention of "ending poverty" has been a central theme of Socialist activism since the very beginning. But something else which should be noted is that this cry to end poverty, as indicated in the first of the Sustainable Development Goals, is nothing more than a launching platform for the other goals, which strongly echo the writings of Karl Marx and other noted Communists. For instance, Goal 2 is 'achieve food security and improved nutrition and promote sustainable agriculture'. Subsection 2.4 of this goal states:

By 2030, ensure sustainable food production systems and implement rural extension agricultural practices that increase productivity and production, that maintain ecosystems, that strengthen capacity for adaptation to climate change, extreme weather, drought, flooding and other disasters and that protect land and soil quality.

While this goal is lacking in any actual implementation plan, what is clear is that the intention is to manage food production according to an international standard planning system. Other aspects of Goal 2 include the maintenance of "diverse seed plant banks at the national, regional and international levels, and ensure access and equitable sharing of benefits arising from the utilization of genetic resources and ensuring "secure and equal access to land, other productive resources and technologies. Perhaps a more succinct way of putting all of this is plank 7 of the Communist "Extension of factories and instruments of production owned by the State; the bringing into cultivation of wastelands, and the improvement of the soil generally in accordance with a common plan."

Goal 3 of the SDGs is a long-standing push from socialist and communist circles. Goal 3 is, "Ensure healthy lives and promote well-being for all at all ages." While this sounds like a good goal, it is in reality a push for socialized medicine, including all forms of birth control and access to "safe" abortion. In the December 1938 edition of The New International, is an article titled, "What is 'Socialized' Medicine?"

In the article, it attempts to establish socialized medicine. It says:

"One needs only to be reminded of a few facts how false the claims are of those who defer quo*: the maternal mortality rate in the U.S per 10,000 live births-more than twice that there are 40,000 deaths a year from tuberculosis which are preventable; nearly one adult in ten with syphilis; there are 60,000 new cases of syphilis every year-ninety-eight percent of v preventable; there is urgent need for nearly 50,000 public health nurses, dentists, and for 400,000 hospital beds if even minimum health standards are met."

The conclusion of the article was very clear:

"Only through the final victory of world socialism can the vast store of scientific knowledge really be put to work for the full benefit of human medicine' is a meaningless phrase except in a socialized society."

In a 1963 edition of the International Socialist Review is an article titled, "Social Britain and the USA." The concerns in this article are similar:

"Tuberculosis was rampant. In 1948 the death rate was 48,000. In 1960 to 4,500.

The mortality rate for infants under five, and for mothers in childbirth was highest in the world. Today it is among the lowest, second only to Holland.

Doctors, dentists and nurses were in very short supply, poorly distributed.

In 1976, the Socialist Worker's Party declared a new "Bill of Rights," which included the statement: "Everyone, from birth to old age, should be guaranteed government medical and dental care through a full program of socialized medicine." In social medicine, or universal health care, has ALWAYS been a goal of communism. Particularly concerning is how closely the rhetoric of the Communist push for socialized medicine matches with Goal 3 of the SDGs. Just as previous calls for socialized medicine expressed concern for maternal mortality rates, birth rates, and the prevention of communicable diseases such as tuberculosis, Goal 3 of the SDGs follows suit, matching point for point:

3.1 By 2030, reduce the global maternal mortality ratio to less than 70 per 100,000 live births

3.2 By 2030, end preventable deaths of newborns and children under 5 years of age, with all countries aiming to reduce neonatal mortality to at least as low as 10 per 1,000 live births and under-5 mortality to at least as low as 25 per 1,000 live births

3.3 By 2030, end the epidemics of AIDS, tuberculosis, malaria and neglected infectious diseases and combat hepatitis, water-borne diseases and other communicable diseases

3.4 By 2030, reduce by one third premature mortality from non-communicable diseases through prevention and treatment and promote mental health

Goal 3.7 is all about birth control, abortion and family planning, while Goal 3.8 is about universal health coverage, or what is currently called, "Universal access to health services."

3.7 By 2030, ensure universal access to sexual and reproductive health-care services, including for family planning, information and education, and the integration of reproductive health into national strategies and programmes

3.8 Achieve universal health coverage, including financial risk protection, quality essential health-care services and access to safe, effective, quality essential medicines and vaccines for all

Each one of these goals match the talking points of Communists and Communist agencies throughout the world for nearly the past 100 years. And in case it isn't clear that abortion is "essential" to achieving the UN's Sustainable Development Goals, to the right is a document produced by the architect of the Sustainable Development Goals, Jeffrey Sachs. Take note of the implication in the image that "had the pregnant woman known," she would have had an abortion "to finish her education." Also notice the themes of "maternal health," "gender equality," and the reduction of poverty. Goal 4 of the Sustainable Development Goals is:

"Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all."

Included under this goal are, among other things, the intention to "ensure that all boys complete free, equitable and quality primary and secondary education" "ensure that all youth and adults have relevant skills, including technical and vocational skills, for employment, decent work and entrepreneurship" close to plank 10 of the Communist Manifesto, which says:

10. Free education for all children in public schools. Abolition of child labour in its present form. Combination of education with industry etc., etc.

Goal 5 of the SDGs is particularly interesting, because the rhetoric matches rhetoric of Vladimir Lenin. Goal 5 is to “Achieve gender equality and empower women and girls.” Of particular note are the following intentions under this goal:

5.4 Recognize and value unpaid care and domestic work through the provision of public services, infrastructure and social protection policies and the promotion of shared responsibility within the household and the family as nationally determined

5.5 Ensure women’s full and effective participation and equal opportunities for leadership at all levels of decision-making in political, economic and public life

5.6 Ensure universal access to sexual and reproductive health and rights as agreed in accordance with the Programme of Action of the International Conference on Population and Development and the Beijing Platform for Action and the outcome documents of their review conferences

Vladimir Lenin regularly fought against laws forbidding abortion and birth control. Once the revolution toppled the Tsar in Russia, he abolished all such laws. Consistent with Communist ideals regarding access to abortion and birth control, in February of 1920, Pravda printed a speech delivered by Lenin under the title, “To the Working Women.” The Sustainable Development Goal of gender empowerment and equality of women and girls seems to have lifted all of its points right out of this speech:

It is essential that women workers take a greater part in the elections. The Soviet government was the first and only government in the world to abolish the old, bourgeois, infamous laws which placed women in an inferior position compared with men and which granted privileges to men, as, for instance, in the sphere of marriage laws or in the sphere of the legal attitude to childbearing. The Soviet government was the first and only government in the world which government abolished all connected with which men and family laws and republics, even democratic.

Where there capitalists are there can be between women even in law.

Where there are no landlords, capitalists and merchants, where the workers are building a new life without these exploiters, there equality between women and men exists in law.

But that is not enough.

It is a far cry from equality in law to equality in life.

We want women workers to achieve equality with men workers not only in law but in life as well. For this, it is essential that women workers take an increasing part in the administration of public enterprises and in the administration of the state.

By engaging in the work of administration women will learn quickly and catch up with the men.

This is just one example among many of Communist leaders pushing for feminism in line with Goal 5 of the SDGs. Goal 11 introduces the desire to implement communist utopias throughout the world. This goal is to “Make cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable.” Goal 11.3 is particular 11.3 By 2030, enhance inclusive and sustainable urbanization and capacity for participatory, integrated and sustainable human settlement planning and management in all countries.

This is echoed on page 3 of the preamble of the Zero Draft of the SDGs:

"We must respect and safeguard our common home. We want to protect it so that it can support the needs of present and future generations. We will sustainably use our oceans and seas; fight climate change; protect and restore ecosystems; combat desertification, land degradation and biodiversity loss; safe and inclusive cities and human settlements; and promote disaster reduction. "

This is a direct reference to Agenda 21, which is one of the initial programs that have become the SDGs. Without getting into too much detail, what this boils down to is the removal of people from more rural settings, and concentrating humanity in cities and suburbs, spreading them about for “sustainable” agriculture while preserving nature throughout the rest of the world. It’s the creation of completely planned communities (or communes) while denying development in on so-designated lands. This comes out more fully in paragraph 29 of the summary:

"We recognize that sustainable urban development and management are crucial to the quality of life of our people. We will work with local authorities and communities to renew and plan our cities and human settlements so as to foster community cohesion and personal security, stimulate innovation and employment. We will reduce the negative impacts of urban activities, including through the safe management and use of land, reduction and recycling of waste and more efficient use of water and energy. We will work to minimize the impact of cities on the global climate system.

take account of population trends and projections in our national, rural development strategies and policies."

This is a clear implementation of plank 9 of the Communist Manifesto, which says: "Combination of agriculture with manufacturing industries; gradual abolition of the distinction between town and country by a more equable distribution of the population over the country."

The preamble of the Zero Document for the Sustainable Development Goals states all this means. It says, "We want to ... foster shared prosperity and sustain it worldwide."

Shared prosperity and sustainable development sounds an awful lot like wealth redistribution ... as stated in Paragraph 25 of the summary for the SDGs made clear:

"We will seek to build strong economic foundations in all countries. Sustained, inclusive and sustainable economic growth is essential for prosperity. This will only be possible if we achieve through progressive policies aimed at redistribution."

Or, as Karl Marx stated so memorably in his Critique of the Gotha Program according to his ability, to each according to his needs!" Conclusion Pope Francis makes abundantly clear that the faithful have a duty to fight against Communism, denounce any and all collaboration with communists and their programs.

"See to it, Venerable Brethren, that the Faithful do not allow themselves to be deceived into lending their aid towards the triumph of Communism. Communism is intrinsically wrong, and no one who would save Christian civilization may collaborate with it in any undertaking whatsoever. Those who permit themselves to be deceived into lending their aid towards the triumph of Communism in their country, will be the first to fall victims of their error. And the greater the grandeur of the Christian civilization in the regions where Communism penetrates, so much more devastating will be the hatred displayed by the godless" DIVINI REDEMPTORIS - Pope Pius XI, 1937

The bottom line is that the Sustainable Development Goals are nothing more than a globally codified plan for the implementation of a Communist Utopia. In sum, the goals which line up with the goals of Communism are:

- Goal 2 of the SDGs, which is to “End hunger, achieve food security and nutrition and promote sustainable agriculture,” lines up with Plank 7 of the Communist Manifesto, “Extension of factories and instruments of production by the State; the bringing into cultivation of wastelands, and the improvement of the soil generally in accordance with a common plan.”
- Goal 3 of the SDGs, which is “Ensure healthy lives and promote well-being for all ages,” lines up with the long-standing Communist plan to implement “universal health care.”
- Goal 4 of the SDGs, which is “Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all,” lines up with 10th plank of the Communist Manifesto, “Free education for all children in public schools; abolition of children’s factory labour in its present form. Combination of education with industrial production, etc., etc.”
- Goal 5 of the SDGs to “Achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls” matches perfectly with Vladimir Lenin’s push for feminist liberation.
- Goal 11 seeks to “Make cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable,” and in so doing, wishes to redistribute wealth in accordance with the Communist call, “From each according to his ability to each according to his needs.”

This is a Communist plan. But this shouldn’t be surprising, since the United Nations is a Communist entity, and always has been. In fact, goal 11 of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals identified in Cleon Skousen in his book, “The Naked Communist” is, “Promote sustainable cities and communities, the only hope for mankind.” If one pays careful attention to the Sustainable Development Goals, it becomes clear that the rhetoric employed promotes this very idea. What is disturbing about this is that the Sustainable Development Goals are getting attention and support from the Vatican. Given the Catholic Church’s constant opposition to Communism, the Vatican’s promotion of a clearly Communist program is a disconcerting understanding.

Filed Under: Sustainable Development Goals Tagged With: abortion, Agends 21, Cat, contraception, Pope Francis, SDGs, Sustainable Development Goals, United Nations U

Comments

Luís Rodrigues-Coelho says

2019-06-17 at 8:07 PM

Sound article; Let me just add that communism was created by jews of the syran Satan in order to be used as a political weapon for social control. Marx didn't invent communism, it existed well before his time, during for example the French Revolution with its 'reign of terror's, the same terror applied in Russia, Mexico and during Spanish civil war (Franco was no fascist, but a catholic who saved Spain from a revolution).

Communism never died, it only changed names and colours and can now be seen in political correct agendas and green movements.

This synagogue also has an invisible weapon : the first beast of the Apocalypse, Freemasonry, which gives support to the second beast, the ecclesiastical freemason. Bergoglio is no catholic, but an ecclesiastical freemason, the 'destroyer' of St Francis' prophecy...with the main task of dragging into apostasy as many souls possible, gradually building a One World Religion with other leaders of other faiths. In fact, former Israel prime minister Simon Peres asked him if he wanted to be the Syrian leader of this global religion, where all religions and faith will be at the same level. I say!!!

Our Lady warned us many times in the past 400 years, that these are the end times that are not one week, one year, one decade nor even one century, but a time where gradually, without people perceiving it, the synagogue of Satan and its proxy's are building a global dictatorship.

The faith system the anti-christ will impose on all gentiles are the "Seven Laws" having the rainbow as its occult symbol (the rainbow bridge between man's

APOCALYPSE, BLOG, END TIMES, POLITICS, RELIGIOUS, Z187

Published on October 4, 2020 — Leave a Comment

Pope Francis pushes communism & one world government?

written by Dean Smith

1 Vote

Pope Francis inauguration, March 19, 2013

A couple of stories on Pope Francis reveals some concerns about the leader of the Roman Catholic Church which as of 2018 had 1.3 baptized adherents. Both articles focussed on a teaching entitled the new encyclical, 'Fratelli Tutti' (Brothers All) that the Pope gave on Sunday, Oct. 4, 2020.

In the first article reported in the Daily Mail, the leader of the world's Catholic seems to be indirectly pushing communism as the answer to the world's woes.

The Daily Mail explains:

Pope Francis says the coronavirus pandemic has proven that the 'magic theories' of market capitalism have failed and that the world needs a new type of politics that promotes dialogue and solidarity. [...]

He rejected the concept of an absolute right to property for individuals, stressing instead the 'social purpose' and common good that must come from sharing the Earth's resources.

READ: Pope says coronavirus pandemic has proven that 'magic theories' of market capitalism have failed and world needs a new type of politics

Since the Pope is considered the spiritual leader of Catholics, perhaps this would be a good time to look at the spiritual side of communism.

In his poem entitled The Player, Karl Marx, the founder of communism, penned these words as he explained the spiritual roots of his philosophy:

“The hellish vapours rise and fill the brain, till I go mad and my heart is utterly changed.

See this sword? The prince of darkness sold it to me.”

And this has been literally fulfilled as it is estimated that communism in its various forms have resulted in the deaths of over 100 million people worldwide. READ: 100 Years of Communism—and 100 Million Dead

Then Breitbart exposes Pope Francis’ push for a one world government, from the same sermon, that would take over running the affairs of the world.

Breitbart writes:

ROME — Pope Francis makes his best case for multilateralism in a new teaching letter, calling for more authority for supranational organizations like the United Nations.

Among the possible candidates for such a role, the pope turns his attention to the United Nations Organization, with which he enjoys close ties.

“In this regard, I would also note the need for a reform of the United Nations Organization, and likewise of economic institutions and international finance, so that the concept of the family of nations can acquire real teeth,” Francis declares, citing a text from his predecessor, Pope Benedict XVI.

READ: Pope Francis Calls for Giving United Nations Organization ‘Real Teeth’

But Pope Francis warned of concerns that this new one world government would be taken over by a handful of countries.

Breitbart explains:

“Needless to say, this calls for clear legal limits to avoid power being co-opted only by a few countries and to prevent cultural impositions or a restriction of the basic freedoms of weaker nations on the basis of ideological differences,” he writes.

Unfortunately, this was the same concern that the Apostle John had in his vision of the end times. In the book of Revelation, the Apostle John warned of a coming world government that would be taken over by three key countries with one emerging on top (Revelation 13:1-2 and Daniel 7:16-24), through which Satan will control the economic and political affairs of the world (Revelation 13:15-17).

Of course, in order for that to happen, people must first be convinced that a one world government is the answer to the world's problems.

Share this:

2 bloggers like this.

Related

Why did Communist China
hack Vatican computers?
In "blog"

Is Pope Francis paving the way for a second exodus from the Catholic church --
Reformation Part II?
In "Main"

Jewish Sanhedrin to put Pope Francis on trial unless he repents?
In "Israel"

THIS ENTRY WAS POSTED IN: Apocalypse, blog, End times, Politics, Religious, z187
TAGGED WITH: blog, Communism, one world government, Pope Francis

This site uses Akismet to reduce spam. Learn how your comment data is processed.

PREVIOUS POST

Protesters and Their Message: What truth?

NEXT POST

Study: Anxiety can lead to dementia

FOLLOW BLOG VIA EMAIL

Enter your email address to follow this blog and receive notifications of new posts by email. You can received notifications daily or weekly.

Enter your email address

FOLLOW

The Bottom Line

A blog about Moral Truth, Philosophy and Politics

Saturday, May 21, 2016

Pope Francis Promotes Islam and Communism

®™©

Pope Francis Promotes Islam and Communism

By de Andréa,
Opinion Editorialist for
'THE BOTTOM LINE'

Published May 21, 2016

Not unlike Pope Pius the XII who promoted Nazism during World War II in the 1940's. He was in pursuit of absolute power and helped Adolf Hitler destroy German Catholic political opposition, he betrayed the Jews of Europe, and sealed a deeply cynical pact with a 20th-century Satan.

Pope Pius VII

Today Pope Francis compares Jesus to Mohammad and calls for 'integration' of Europeans with the Islamic god Allah, a 21st century Satan.

Subscribe

Posts

Comments

Special Essays

Assassination of JFK
Education or Indoctrination
The Evil Work of the Fabian Communists
That Pesky Fourth Amendment
The Elite Socialization of America
Islam & The First Amendment
Basic Preparedness Guide
Federal Reserve Brief
Personal Income Tax The Real Truth

Blog Archive

- ▶ 2020 (3)
- ▶ 2019 (111)
- ▶ 2018 (62)
- ▶ 2017 (200)
- ▼ 2016 (185)
 - ▶ December (12)
 - ▶ November (15)
 - ▶ October (20)

Pope Francis, in an interview with the French newspaper La Croix, suggested a likeness between ISIS and Jesus by explaining that while “the idea of conquest is inherent in the soul of Islam,” it was quite possible to interpret certain passages of the Gospels, particularly in Matthew, as a call for Christians to go forth with this “same idea of conquest” in their discipleship.

Pope Francis kissing the Quran

Is this guy even Christian???

He also faulted the free market for driving poverty, saying economies need “the state to monitor and balance them;” and blamed gun manufacturers for fueling wars; and the failures of Christians in Europe to “properly assimilate with Muslims” as causing much of the tensions of recent times –presumably, to include acts of terror. So terrorism is the fault of the Christians because Christians are not assimilating into the Muslim culture.

Either the Pope has slipped a cog or he has joined ISIS.

Here are his specific words, according to an English translation of his comments to La Croix:

“Today, I don’t think that there is a fear of Islam as such but of ISIS and its war of conquest, which is partly drawn from Islam. It is true that the idea of conquest is inherent in the soul of Islam. However, it is also possible to interpret the objective in Matthew’s Gospel, where Jesus sends his disciples to all nations, in terms of the same idea of conquest.”

The Pope’s interpretation of Jesus words are dumbfounding, suggesting that Christians should take a lesson from the barbaric

- September (20)
- August (25)
- July (28)
- June (14)
- ▼ May (11)

The Central Intelligence Agency Hasn’t a Clue, Or... Imam Hussein Obama Flat Out Lied About The Iran Nu...
Pope Frances: European Christians Must Breed With ...

Pope Francis Promotes Islam and Communism

Obama’s Support Of Terrorism In The U.S.

London Has Fallen To ISIS Washington DC Is Next

Dictator Obama Decrees All Public Schools Must All...

Transgender Dressing Rooms: A Haven for Perverts

More Proof : The Government Believes 'Your Propert...

We Must Annihilate The Daesh/ISIS

Carly Fiorina Pretends To Be Christian But Fully S...

- April (10)
- March (7)
- February (7)
- January (16)
- 2015 (270)
- 2014 (102)
- 2013 (247)
- 2012 (142)
- 2011 (95)
- 2010 (143)
- 2009 (123)
- 2008 (195)
- 2007 (164)
- 2006 (54)
- 2005 (3)

Popular Posts

Learn the Islamic Hand Sign

Learn the Islamic Hand Sign Or face

Islamic Jihadists and conquer the world, force people to accept Jesus as God or face a beheading.

He also said “co-existence between Christians and Muslims is still possible,” citing his own growing years in a country “where they co-habit on good terms.”

Question Mr. Pope does God co-exists with Satan???

He pointed to the many instances he has personally experienced when Muslims have formed long lines just to attend Christian events. Now I have possibly heard more than I really wanted to know.

“[I’ve seen] Muslims come to venerate the Virgin Mary and St. George,” said Pope Francis. “Similarly, they tell me that for the Jubilee Year, Muslims in one African country formed a long queue at the cathedral to enter through the holy door and pray to the Virgin Mary. In Central Africa, before the war, Christians and Muslims used to live together and must learn to do so again. Lebanon also shows that this is possible.”

Is this man ignorant of recent history or what? Lebanon is a prime example of what not to do regarding Muslim refugees. Prior to the 1960’s Lebanon was primarily a ‘Christian Parliamentary Democracy’, a carryover from French Colonialism. Then the Lebanese ignorantly and with blind benevolence made the mistake of taking in Jordanian refugees, (Hezbollah) as a result, today Lebanon is a virtual Islamic State. Read Bridget Gabriel’s Book “Because They Hate”

He then underscored his belief that all are equal in God’s eyes, and that all seek the same dignities – and because of this, religion and politics must be kept separate. Which of course cannot be done in Islam because mosque and state are one and inseparable.

Well now Mr. Pope, this just shows your ignorance about...well almost everything. First, all are not equal in God eyes, not in this context. We were equally created in the image of God, we are equally sinners and we are equally loved. But in the context of Islam and Satanic subjugation the rest of the world is not equal. If we were, then the Pope is correct, we should just all form one religious ideology and become “Chrislam.” Equal means “the same as,” If Noah was equal to the rest of the millions of people on the earth in 2000 BC then why did God spare Noah? Not because Noah wasn’t a sinner, but because he wasn’t the “same as” or “equal” to the bloody aggression! An American public school (Islamic madrassa) in the State of Virginia...

042-68-4425

042-68-4425 Did the Inspector General Detect Fraud in Barack Obama’s Social Security Number? And yes that is One Of Obama’s ...

Clinton and Obama Lie at the DNC

Clinton and Obama Lie at the DNC In the speeches presented by ex-President Bill Clinton and President Obama at the Communist DNC...

Islam At The DNC

Islam At The DNC For those of you that have doubted me when I proved to you –six ways from Wednesday- that ‘your’ ...

The Islamic State of Michigan

Sharia’s foot is through the door. Muslims are in, Christians are out... Islamic Sharia law has been in America for several years, but ‘now’ ...

Translate

Select Language ▼

Powered by Google Translate

Total Page Views

followers of Satan as Islam is today. Jesus warned about false prophets and Mohammad is certainly a false prophet, very unequal to Biblical Prophets.

Moreover regarding the separation of “Church and State.” From 1776 until the 1950’s and 60’s there was no real separation of church and state in America. And America was blessed. America was the moral leader of the world. We won every war waged against us. Then we officially separated God from the public forum in 1962 by court order. Took God out of the schools and out of government. We lost the Korean War in mid-1953 we lost the Vietnam War in early 1975 and we are losing the longest war in American history against Allah/Satan. All because America separated from God.

“States must be secular,” the Pope said. “Confessional states end badly. That goes against the grain of history. I believe that a version of laicity accompanied by a solid law guaranteeing religious freedom offers a framework for going forward. We are all equal as sons (and daughters) of God and with our personal dignity. However, everyone must have the freedom to externalize his or her own faith. If a Muslim woman wishes to wear a veil, she must be able to do so. Similarly, if a Catholic wishes to wear a cross. People must be free to profess their faith at the heart of their own culture, not merely at its margins.”

Either this man lies like a ‘prayer rug’ or he has no foggy idea what Islam is. There is no freedom in Islam...none at all, religious or otherwise. It is because of their god Allah/Satan, it is an oppressive murdering subjugation of Gods People.

Pope Francis, who’s been a vocal supporter of the rights of refugees to resettle in Europe and America – and who has outright called on the United States to open its doors to more immigrants and refugees – also said “integration” was a key component of ensuring that Muslims and Christians peaceably co-exist.

Yeah! How’s that working out for you Mr. Pope?

Question Mr. Pope, where in the world have Muslims integrated with the people of the host country??? They come to change the country into Islam not to integrate.

“We need to speak of [national] roots in the plural because there are so many,” he said. “In this sense, when I hear talk of the Christian roots of Europe, I sometimes dread the tone, which can seem triumphalist or even vengeful. It then takes on colonialist overtones. ... Yes, Europe has Christian roots and it is Christianity’s responsibility to water those roots. But this must be done in a spirit of service, as in the washing of the feet. Christianity’s duty to Europe is one of service. ... Christianity’s contribution to a culture is that of Christ in the washing of the feet. In other words, service and the gift of life. It must not become a colonial enterprise.”

No Mr. Pope it has become an Islamic enterprise. I will not wash the feet of Satan nor cast my perils before the swine of Islam.

He then drifted into a condemnation of capitalism, praising the virtues of social communism, before returning again to “the migrant issue,” and speaking of the need to integrate.

Again...Mr. Pope where in the Bible did Jesus promote Socialism???

Read a Joseph Farrah article on, “No Jesus Was Not a Socialist.” Farrah writes: “One thing I can say with certainty, the 24 percent who think Jesus was/is a socialist probably haven’t actually read the Bible.”

Mr. Pope! I can’t help but wonder if you have actually READ the Bible...

“Coming back to the migrant issue, the worst form of welcome is to ‘ghettoize’ them,” he said. “On the contrary, it’s necessary to integrate them. ... I am thinking here of Pope Gregory the Great, who negotiated with the people known as the barbarians, who were subsequently integrated. This integration is all the more necessary today since, as a result of a selfish search for well-being, Europe is experiencing the grave problem of a declining birth rate. A demographic emptiness is developing. In France, at least, this trend is less marked because of family-oriented policies.”

Again the Pope does not know his history: The integration of the Barbarians and the Romans in the fourth century was a two way street. At the same time in the fourth century and later, when Romans were arrogantly disparaging barbarian behavior in their writings, other Romans were enthusiastically embracing one or another aspects of the barbarian's everyday lives. (A compromise)

As I said Chrislam, the Integration of Islam and Christianity.

But on capitalism and the notion of free markets?

First, the Pope called wars, the work of “gun manufacturers,” and suggested if that industry did not exist, peace would prevail.

Again, the Pope does not know his history, the gun was invented in the mid 13 hundreds AD and wars have existed since 2700 BC, so obviously war predates the gun by 4000 years. (The first war in recorded history took place in Mesopotamia in 2700 BC between Sumer and Elam. The Sumerians, under the command of Enembaragesi, the King of Kish, defeated the Elamites in this war and, it is recorded, “they carried away the spoils and the weapons of Elam.” Which were knives', swords, spears, and axes. Moreover I can assure you that they were not “guns” The Pope is suffering the same disease of ignorance as Diane Feinstein, (No Guns No Crime.) the first crime was committed in 4000 BC Cain killed Able with an assault ~~Rifle~~. I mean an assault 'Rock'.

Pope Francis then faulted unemployment with the political unrest of Islam, particularly in Africa, and the failure of those with the means to invest and provide jobs. And that, he went on, is due to the failures of governments to intercede.

The Pope needs to catch up, this is an old excuse, that Islam went on the warpath because they were economically depressed. Today some of these Muslim countries are the richest countries in the world and yet they terrorize the rest of the world. It's not because of money it's because of their god Allah/Satan - Mr. Pope.

Bluntly, he denounced capitalism, calling into question a “world economic system” he claimed had “descended into the idolatry of money.”

Well Mr. Pope, guess what? Economy (the definition by Meriam Webster is: the process or system by which goods and services are produced, sold, and bought in a country or region, the careful use of money, resources, etc. something that makes it possible for you to spend less money.

Economics is all about MONEY! Or am I just being too obvious or literal?

Pope Francis then said this, to La Croix:

“The great majority of humanity’s wealth has fallen into the hands of a minority of the population. A completely free market does not work. Markets in themselves are good, but they also require a fulcrum, a third party or a state to monitor and balance them. In other words, a social market economy.”

THE BOTTOM LINE: One where everyone shares equally? A completely free market does work Mr. Pope, it is just like everything else...it’s not perfect.

This’ my friend is right out of Karl Marx, clearly the Pope is a Communist, or worse a Fabian Communist who believes in using Islam (Vladimir Linen’s useful Idiots) to bring about chaos which will cause a complete meltdown and subsequent dependency on government. As Marx, the Pope looks to government for the answers to fix all the world’s problems. (Government replaces God) That’s the platform of Marxist Communism.

The purpose of this article was not necessarily to slam the Pope, but to point out the ignorance of so-called Christianity. It is becoming increasingly doubtful that Christendom has even maintained its power of discernment. Me thinks we need a little more preaching on who the enemy really is in these Biblical ‘Last Days’

I can’t help but wonder where the Pope fits God into this equation... If he even does.

Thanks for listening - de Andréa

Please pass on this article to everyone on your email list. It may be the only chance for your friends to hear the truth.

Copyright © 2014 by Bottom Line Publishing, All Rights Reserved - Permission to reprint in whole or in part is gladly granted, provided full credit is given.

Disclaimer - The writer of this blog is not responsible for the language or advertisements used in links to referenced articles as source materials.

Posted by de Andrea at 9:35 AM

No comments: